GLOOM OF DEATH HANGS OVER SMALL HOOSIER VILLAGE

DEAD OF MICHIGAN CENTRAL AND NEW YORK CENTRAL
WRECKS IN MORGUE

AT CHESTERTON—ALL BUT FIVE
BODIES HAVE BEEN IDENTIFIED

(By United Press)

Chestertown, Ind., March 1—The gloom of death still hung over this Hoosier village today.

Next door to the furniture store which became a morgue when the New York Central engine plowed into the wooden coaches of the Michigan Central "Canadian" at Porter Sunday night, nuns were saying prayers for the dead.

A continual stream of people from the surrounding country flooded into the village. Some came to see the wreck while others sought missing relatives. The motor hearse has ceased to make trips to Porter as the bodies are believed to have all been found. It was busy today taking identified bodies to the railroad station.

At Porter a larger crowd had gathered early to see the work of unearthing the New York Central engine. It is unlikely that any additional bodies will be found under the wreckage.

The crowd stood back and watched in awe, not caring for any memento that would recall to them the horror of the wreck.

All of the bodies but five had been identified. It is likely that the identity of three of them will never be known. They are crushed beyond recognition and repose in the basement of the improvised morgue.

Preliminary investigation into the New York Central, according to an announcement made today, places the blame for the disaster on Engineer Long and Fireman Block of the Michigan Central.

INDEPENDENTS TO STAGE A RECALL

(United Press)

Bismarck, N. D., March 1—Independents bent on a new administration in North Dakota, today agreed on June 15 as a tentative date for a recall election.

The plan calls for precinct meetings throughout the state March 16 to elect delegates to the district convention. The district convention would be held March 16 and a state convention would be held at Devils Lake March 23 to complete a platform, a slate of candidates and campaign plans for the recall election.

Independents plan to raise a fund of $155,000 to finance the campaign.

BELTZ STARTS SERVING SENTENCE

(By United Press)

Stillwater, Minn., March 1—Peter J. Beltz, prominent Red Wing real estate dealer, today began serving an indeterminate sentence of from one to ten years in the state prison for third degree robbery. He was permitted to plead guilty to a comparatively light charge following his confessed robbery of the state bank of Afton on Jan. 24. He also confessed to robbing the State Bank of Stockholm, Wis., recently.

BROKE DINNER DATE, IS SHOT BY WOMAN

(United Press)

Chicago, March 1—Mrs. Isabel Orthwein today shot and killed Henry Zeigler, manager of the Goodyear Rubber & Tire company here, in her apartment in the fashionable Gold Coast residence district.

Zeigler leaves a wife and a sixteen year old daughter.

Mrs. Orthwein told police he had been keeping company with her since she divorced her husband, a wealthy resident of St. Louis, six months ago. Her husband is a stockholder in the St. Louis baseball club and oil promoter.

Mrs. Orthwein said that the trouble started when Zeigler broke his engagement to take her to dinner last night.

LEGISLATION IS BEING RUSHED IN CONGRESS TODAY

WITH NIGHT SESSION AND RULES
IN BOTH HOUSES CONGRESS
SUSPENDED

SENATE LEADERS HOPE TO SAVE
THE NAVY APPROPRIATION
BILL FROM JAM

(United Press)

Washington, March 1—With night session and the rules in both houses of congress suspended, there was no slackening today of trying to get through necessary legislation by Friday morning.

Senate leaders hope to have the navy appropriation bill saved from a hopeless jam was strengthened when the resolution repealing war laws was passed last night.

This resolution was the obstacle which threatened the legislative program as Senator Borah was prepared for a long speech on it.

At the last minute the Lever food and fuel control act was included in the repeal. The supreme court's decision holds unconstitutional the anti-profiteering section of the law.

An amendment was added providing that the repeal shall not effect pending prosecutions under the law.

Advocates of the soldier bonus bill don't care if it is voted on now or at the next session. The Mussel Shoals appropriation bill of $10,000,000 and a few other disputed questions were the first obstacles today in the way of cleaning up by March 4.

ST. THOMAS TO PLAY CARLETON

(United Press)

St. Paul, March 1—St. Thomas cadets tonight will try to upset the Carleton basket ball five which has tied for the championship of the state. Carleton has not been defeated this year. If upset now it would give Hamline a chance to the title.

St. Olaf meets Concord at Moorhead tonight, and tomorrow afternoon Gustavus Adolphus will meet St. Thomas here. Macalester will meet Hamline Wednesday night.

Panama and Costa Rica Fight Battle

Balboa Heights, Canal Zone, March 1—Without a formal declaration of war, Panama and Costa Rica have fought a battle resulting in four killed and eleven wounded.

Panama forces were in possession of the disputed province of Chiriqui today which has been occupied by Costa Ricans. The Costa Rican forces were captured. Panama also declared they would continue to hold the province until the United States offered mediation.

The forces clashed two times. The first was a brief fight without casualties, 23 Costa Ricans being captured.

$14,000 MYSTERY MONEY IS FOUND

OFFICIALS DIFFER WHETHER THE CASH IS MAIL CAR
LOOT

Minneapolis, March 1—Finding a suitcase containing $14,400 in currency and bonds in the rooms of Mrs. John Wombach, 771 Wabasha St., St. Paul, injected a new mystery angle into the unraveling of the holdup of a mailcar on the Northern Pacific North Coast Limited near the twin cities, Feb. 18.

Three women, Mrs. Patrick Hendricks of Wildwood Manor, her daughter, Mrs. Grace McDonald, and Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, were arrested Saturday on a charge of robbery in connection with the holdup, after $40,870 had been recovered from a storage room in the basement of 535 Asbury Ave., where Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Anderson each had apartments.

Mrs. Wombach, after reading of the arrest of Mrs. Hendricks, whom she has known for several years, notified Chief of Police H. J. Crepeau of St. Paul that Mrs. Hendricks had left a suit case with her last Monday. Chief Crepeau sent police to obtain the suitcase and says that in it he found $14,400 in cash and bonds.

While Chief Crepeau insists that the money is a part of the mailcar loot, postoffice inspectors are equally insistent that they can see no connection between the money found in the suitcase and the mailcar robbery.

More than $30,000 of the money recovered Saturday was "punched money," destroyed by punchmarks and being returned to the United States treasury department, inspectors said today.

Meanwhile, twin city police, federal and county officials systematically are searching in Minneapolis and St. Paul for Adelbert Smith, known also as Delbert Sommers and J. P. Sommers, as the actual robber. It was one spoken word, the name of P. J. Hendricks, a railway mail clerk, used by the bandit when conversing with the men he afterward held up, that led postoffice inspectors to ascertain his probable identity. Smith, they found, had been living with Mrs. McDonald, who was Mr. Hendrick's daughter.

Total Money Taken Uncertain

"There has been no money found since the strongbox was picked up at 535 Asbury Ave.," E. L. Jackson, postoffice inspector, said, "that has any connection with the mailcar robbery."

Mr. Jackson said he could not estimate the actual amount the bandit obtained.

"None of us is able to say how much money was in the box," he said. "I telegraphed to Spokane. Until I hear from them I cannot tell how much was taken. The total found Saturday was $40,780. This included in excess of $30,000 in 'punched' or destroyed money."

Mr. Hendricks, who is employed on the St. Paul-Miles City run, has been reported on the sick list since Feb. 20.

Postoffice inspectors said today they were satisfied he had no connection with the case which involved his wife and daughter. He has left the cottage at Wildwood Manor and is believed to be the guest of friends in St. Paul.

Matrimonial Entanglements Revealed

Unraveling of the crime brought to light a sordid story of matrimonial entanglements.

Mrs. McDonald had been separated from her husband, but was not divorced from him. She was referred to by postal inspectors as "the Hendricks girl." For several months she has been living in apartment 8 at 535 Asbury Ave. with Smith, who was known under the name of "Sommers."

The janitor referred to her as "Mrs. Sommers." It was a money order stub paying the rent on the apartment found in her pocketbook by postal inspectors that gave them the address of the man for whom they were searching.

In the adjoining apartment, No. 7, lived Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, Mrs. McDonald's cousin. She had been living with her husband, Albert R. Anderson, but several months ago they separated, the husband moving to a rooming house. Mrs. Anderson has been employed as a clerk by the Twin City Varnish company for two years and bore an excellent reputation. Officials of the company today said they doubted if she was connected with the case.

Inspector Visits Apartment

Inspector Mark Ryan today told of

DR. S. N. SCHMIDT

Dr. S. N. Schmidt, head of the commission of doctors who sailed from New York to wage a fight against the typhus epidemic in Poland.

the incidents connected with the arrest of Mrs. Anderson.

"I went out to the apartment at 535 Asbury Ave., near the corner of University and Snelling Ave., and made inquiries of the janitor, O. G. Lee, and also of tenants in the building regarding the relations of the Andersons and of the Smith family," Inspector Ryan said. "I learned that one J. P. Sommers and his alleged wife lived in apartment 8. I learned that he was called 'Delbert.' I could not see why he should be called by that name while his initials were 'J. P.' I later learned that his real name was Adelbert Smith."

"His supposed wife was Mrs. Grace McDonald, the daughter of Mrs. Hendricks of Wildwood Manor."

"Mrs. Anderson, I found, was a tenant of very good standing. She had paid her rent regularly for two years."

Family in Arrears For Rent

"I found that the Sommers family were in arrears and had been continually pressed for their rent by the janitor, who represented the owners of the apartment."

"There was no one at home either in the Sommers apartment, No. 7, or the Anderson apartment, No. 8. Neighbors said that Mrs. Anderson had gone down town shopping."

"I therefore looked carefully through both apartments and found that there evidently had been an attempt made in the Sommers apartment to destroy and remove all pictures, letters, documents and even clothes which might serve to identify the owner. I then ordered the janitor to admit us to all the storage rooms in the basement."

"There was a long row of them with no windows, but many of the boards had knotholes in them. I peeked through the knotholes and, on looking through one of them, I jumped back in surprise. Right there in plain sight was the strongbox itself. I seized a hammer from the janitor's hand and broke the padlock."

"Whose storage room is this? I asked the janitor."

"It is Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson's storage room," he replied.

"I then went back to the Anderson apartment and took a suitcase in which I placed some papers for identification. Then, leaving a deputy with authority to arrest Mrs. Anderson when she returned, I went outside, carrying the suitcase and strongbox."

"I had not gone more than 12 feet when Mrs. Anderson herself came home. She looked at the strongbox and also at her own suitcase, and her face went white."

"I knew without asking that she was the owner. I followed her into the apartment and when she had unlocked the door of her room I said: 'Mrs. Anderson, you are under arrest.'"

"She did not say a word and complied without hesitation when I told her to come with us."

HUNDREDS CASES AFFECTED BY RULE ON THE LEVER ACT

DECISION OF U. S. SUPREME COURT STOPS PROSECUTIONS OF GOVERNMENT

OPINION IS UNANIMOUS ONE, JUSTICES
BRANDEIS AND PITNEY
OPPOSED REASONING

Washington, March 1—The supreme court has declared unconstitutional sections of the Lever law on which the government has based its profiteering prosecutions during its campaign against the high cost of living.

The decision effectively puts a stop to further profiteering prosecutions under the law.

In taking this action the court sustained decrees of lower courts which had sustained a demurrer to the indictment of a grocery concern. The specific charge was that the defendant charged $10.70 for 550 pounds of sugar, or at the rate of more than 20 cents a pound.

The conviction of the firm of Waeds, Inc., of Binghamton, N. Y., also was set aside. Chief Justice White said the statute was "as broad as human imagination."

The decision was unanimous. Justices Brandeis and Pitney concurred in the opinion, but dissented from the reasoning by which it was reached.

The court sustained lower courts in granting to 13 retail merchants of Denver an injunction restraining federal authorities from enforcing provisions of the Lever act.

Hundreds of cases growing out of the government campaign to reduce the cost of living are affected by the opinion. Many of these cases have reached the supreme court, while many others are pending in lower courts.

COUNTY WEED INSPECTOR, NEW IDEA

(United Press)

St. Paul, March 1—Children who will attain the age of six during the next school terms may be admitted to classes at the beginning of the semester under a new law passed by the state senate today. It goes to Gov. Preus for his signature. The measure will admit 10,000 additional children to Minnesota schools, it was estimated.

Senator Gillan introduced a bill which would exempt mothers of small children and nurses from jury service. Six other bills were introduced today and fifteen were received at last night's session. Twelve bills were passed today.

The senate committee on agriculture favor establishment of offices of state weed inspectors and recommended a salary of $4,000 for the office. Appointment of county weed inspectors during five months of the year and $125 a month was also recommended.

UNION LABOR IN CONTRACTING WORK

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 1—Union labor of St. Paul today went into the contracting business.

With headquarters at the trades and labor hall agents of the building trades union were prepared to meet prospective building and make contracts, union leaders said.

This action was followed by a decision by contractors of the state to cut wages twenty per cent immediately. Union labor refused to accept the schedule and asserted present contracts run to May 1. In retaliation unionists voted "to eliminate the middleman" and begin at once to accept work.

Approaching Greatest Job In the World

RAYMOND CLAPPER,

(Copyright 1921 by United Press)

Marion, March 1—Warren G. Harding told the United Press today in an exclusive interview what a man thinks about as he approaches one of the greatest jobs in the world.

It was a simple expression of keen regret at parting from the folks in Marion.

Strolling down the street together, Harding was halted every few steps by friends whom he addressed as Joe, Charley or Jim.

"I seem to be obvious to it," he said, referring to the great drama in which he will be playing the leading role shortly.

"I feel perfectly normal. I do not seem to have any feeling at all except regret at having to leave Marion and all the old home folks. You can mark that down. It is a real regret. It is a little hard to leave after you have spent all your life among these people."

An Hour In Marion, On To Washington

RAYMOND CLAPPER,

Marion, Ohio, March 1—President-elect Harding and Mrs. Warren G. Harding were back in their home town today to spend a few hours before starting to Washington.

The president-elect's train arrived shortly after four o'clock this morning but it was parked in the yards until the party was ready to get up.

President-elect Harding and Mrs. Harding found many of the town folks at the station, although the big demonstration is planned for tomorrow noon. They went to the home of the president-elect's father, Dr. Geo. Harding, where they will remain tonight as their home has been emptied in anticipation of new tenants.

ALLIES MEET, PLAN ON PENALTIES TO SET ON TEUTONS

GERMAN REPLY ON REPARATIONS
PRESENTED BY FOREIGN MIN-ISTER SIMMONS

ALLIES ASK 55 BILLIONS—GER-MANY COUNTERS WITH
$7,290,000,000

(By United Press)

London, March 1—Allied leaders will meet at 4 P. M. to consider penalties to inflict on Germany for meeting reparation demands, it was officially announced today following the first session with the German delegates.

After Foreign Minister Von Simons had outlined the German reparation proposal the allies refused to hear the experts who were ready to testify that the sums offered were all that Germany could afford to pay.

It was officially announced that Von Simons had ignored the allied demand that a twelve per cent tax be imposed on German exports for the benefit of the allies, and that they had offered a maximum of a billion and a half pounds.

The German offer is nominally $7,290,000,000. The allies demand $55,000,000,000.

It was announced the allies will meet the German delegates again tomorrow.

Von Simons declared the proposals made at the Paris conference in January were contradictory, declaring that production speeding up there would soon bring stifling international competition with an export tax. These terms were not acceptable, he said.

He urged that a total amount be named, declaring that the German people were ready to make a sacrifice if definite liabilities were named.

After hearing Von Simons' statement Lloyd George said:

"Germany appears to completely misunderstand the reality of the situation. The allies already have agreed to such a proposal which is totally unacceptable."

Germany Makes Last Appeal

London, March 1—Germany today made her last appeal to the allies for leniency in reparation demands.

Working most of the night when it was decided suddenly to call the conference today instead of Wednesday the German delegation completed its data. Foreign Minister Von Simons admitted that he had submitted a surprisingly high figure as the maximum for Germany.

The morning conference was held in the Lancaster House adjoining St. James Palace.

The German delegations were received coldly in Lancaster. Porters hesitated to carry their baggage, and the representatives were snubbed at the Savoy where they were quartered.

Von Simons and other members of the party took the snubs with apparently good nature. When asked how he enjoyed himself, the foreign minister declared he had only one complaint and that was that the food was too rich and he intended to ask for simpler menus.

Trees Trimmed by Machinery. Cumphor is derived from the twigs clipped from the tree at regular intervals and these clippings have heretofore been done by hand which made it a tedious and rather expensive operation. An American inventor has come to the rescue of this industry by inventing a machine to do this work. This machine strips the cumphor trees of the leaves and small branches without injury to the limbs or impairment of the productive capacity of the trees. The machine carries its own gasoline engine. As it is drawn between the rows of cumphor trees its cutting knife cuts off the leaves and small branches.

present time and his parents are residents of northern Minnesota.

Press reports from St. Paul yesterday were to the effect that the "swag" taken by Smith was recovered by the federal officials, three women arrested in connection with the robbery and a later but unofficial report that two more persons, one a mail clerk, have been placed in custody.

It is said by persons who were present that the sister of young Smith upon recognizing his picture as that of the youth sought for the robbery and shooting in connection with it, nearly collapsed. She was visiting friends when the picture with a notice of the robbery was brought to her attention. She nearly fainted and showed great distress and at once retired to her home. She has not heard from her brother since he ran away from home when he was 14 years old. She stated however, that her mother has received letters from him nearly every week, although he has not visited his parents in the past six years. His letters were never answered, because he gave no address and always in the past few years mailed them on a train.

Young Smith deserted from the navy during the war period. His mother, who it is alleged was then residing at Grey Eagle, was notified by naval officials that he was sick and being transferred to a hospital. It was while he was being transferred that he made his escape. Later he was taken into custody by the officials but owing to the fact that he was under age—in fact still is under age—and the department was just as much to blame as he, the case was not pressed.

Farmers near and residents of Grey Eagle and Swanville all know Smith very well. He figured in many narrow escapes in his father's automobile while at home. His general reputation has been that he was inclined to be "fast" or "sporty."

Chief of Police Harold Clark and Special Agent Hubert Friesinger for the Northern Pacific, are convinced, following developments of the past few days, that Smith passed through Little Falls on Monday of last week, "hoofing" it for the northern part of the state. Their attention was called to a youth, answering in every detail the description of Smith, and dressed in clothes exactly like those in which Smith was seen on the night previous to the robbery in the mailcar occupied by Strong, Christensen and Brown.

The youth wore a light overcoat, belted and a dark cap "slouched" onto his head. When he passed the roundhouse near the old main line here, and at any other time he met anyone along the road, he pulled his cap down so as to partly cover his face. Two officers trailed him as far as Ft. Ripley when he succeeded in making a getaway. He stopped at a number of farm houses along the road, asking for food.

Upon the supposition that being headed north, Smith will pay a visit to his parents at Nashauk, the police authorities of that village have been notified to be on the lookout for him.

A total reward of $5000 is out for Smith's arrest. He will face a charge of murder.

Is Now in Canada

Latest information available indicates that Smith is across the International border line into Canada. His picture has been identified as that of the youth who on Tuesday night occupied the berth directly across from that in which Sheriff Paul Felix rode to International Falls on Feb. 22.

The young man who took great pains in keeping his face averted from the view of other occupants of the car got off at the border line city early Wednesday morning.

This latest development corroborates the belief of local police head and Hubert Friesinger that Smith is the man whom they trailed as far as Ft. Ripley on the Monday preceding.

Federal officials at St. Paul have been advised of the information available here and the dragnet is to be tightened to draw in the robber and murderer. Hourly developments are expected.

Improved Camera.

Designed particularly for making motion pictures of birds and animals, a new French camera, with a speed of 250 exposures a second, is remarkable for its ingenious method of keeping the moving object in the field of the lens, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The sighting arm is so connected to the pivoted mirror that they move together in geometrical relation, and an image in the center of the finder is always reflected into the center of the camera lens, regardless of its position. The flight of birds, and even of projectiles, may thus be recorded for further study, the object being in about the same position on each picture.

Mrs. W. J. Andrews, Formerly of Ft. Ripley and Now of Washington State, Claimed

HEIR TO ENORMOUS FORTUNE Lands and Rentals Tied Up in 99 Year Lease About to be Distributed to Heirs

From the following article taken from The Evening Record, Ellensburg, Kittitas County, Washington, of Wednesday, February 23, it looks as though Mrs. W. J. Andrews who until about five years ago lived at Ft. Ripley will come into the possession of a handsome fortune. Before marriage Mrs. Andrews was Miss Louella Baker.

"Movie scenarios and fairy tales do not lie. Every now and then into the commonplace every day lives of ordinary people there drops a veritable bomb of adventure.

So seems the case of Mrs. W. J. Andrews, of 509 North Nanum, who suddenly finds the prospects of enormous wealth looming up. For she has every reason to believe that she is to be one of the heirs benefitting from the division of the enormous Baker estate, which amounts into 10 or 12 figures and which is to be divided among the heirs. For her father, Ezra Baker, is the grandson of the original holder of this enormous estate, and she is the great grand daughter of this fabulously rich landholder, whose estate is at last to be divided. She believes that she is one of six direct lineal descendants of the original landholder, and that she will be one of six to receive money from the Baker estate.

To investigate and substantiate the claims Mrs. Andrews' daughter, Mrs. P. C. Schlager, from Pasco is in town to aid her mother in tracing the necessary facts. The search has also revealed Mrs. G. W. Acton, of Rockford, Wash., as one of the others who will have a claim on the estate.

Mrs. Andrews was formerly Miss Louella Baker. She lived in Minnesota, having come to Ellensburg from there five years ago. Her father, Ezra Baker, moved to Minnesota and established his family after the Civil war. Mrs. Andrews is one of a family of ten children, of which number but three are now living.

As to what she will do with the fortune, Mrs. Andrews is not prepared to say, since her quiet unassuming way is not that of the person who would cross bridges before she has reached them.

Her practically certain claim on the fortune has only come to her from the newspaper publicity following the recent expiration of the 99 year lease, which releases the immense holding. The Baker Independent association is handling the funds, and will listen to all claims, and distribute the fortune. The estate has been up before for litigation, but the problem of distribution has not previously been taken up.

The legacy constitutes land granted by the government in recognition of his services in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 to Col. Jacob Baker.

Worth Fabulous Sum
The land has been under ninety-nine year lease, but the lease expired a few weeks ago and legal action has already been started to distribute the estate.

The value of the estate staggers imagination. Just the land reaches an almost fabulous figure, but, in addition to this item, it is the understanding of the local heirs that the rentals for the land have been accumulating for all these years and this, in actual cash, is now in eastern banks, waiting only a court order.

The value of the land is conservatively estimated at sums varying from $500,000,000 to $800,000,000. What the cash will be cannot even be estimated."

BAPTIST BIBLE SCHOOL

Adult Department to Meet Friday Night With Officers and the Teachers

A joint meeting has been called for the adult department of the Bible school of the First Baptist church and the officers and teachers, to be held in Lower Temple Friday evening March 4th at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Nicholson, superintendent of the school is preparing a program of advance to be considered which will be of vital interest to the progress of the school along all lines.

The nature of the meeting will be for the Alpha class and the Baracas to meet in separate rooms, and conduct a three-quarters of an hour session each, then come together around the tables and confer upon specific plans. Refreshments will be served and all members are asked to respond to this call and be on hand.

SLEEPING SICKNESS

Disease First Appeared in Vienna in 1914, and in America in 1917—Symptoms Cited

The sleeping sickness disease, which has been puzzling physicians since it first appeared in 1914 in Vienna, and subsequently developed in American cities in 1917, is under consideration by the state board of health, Dr. Ora McDaniel of the bureau of preventable diseases, said. The disease is not reportable in this state, according to health board officials although physicians have begun to recognize it as communicable, although the communicability is low. Whether the "sleeping sickness" will be made reportable in this state is to be considered by the health board at its next meeting, physicians said.

Called Inflammation of Brain
One of the theories of some physicians has been that the peculiar malady is one of the after effects of influenza, Dr. W. F. Reasner, assistant health commissioner, said, but in the recent death in Minneapolis there is no history of influenza.

According to Dr. Reasner lethargic encephalitis is inflammation of the brain due to a specific organism although the medical experiments have not yet given conclusive facts.

In the state there have been reports of five cases, although there may be more, Dr. McDaniel said, because the disease is not reportable. At Winona one death occurred recently and other cases there are reported. Officials of the Minneapolis board said that the disease is almost 100 per cent fatal.

The initial symptoms are described as chills, lassitude and general malaise, headache and general pains, nausea, associated often with the common symptoms of upper respiratory, catarrhal affections, according to a paper prepared by Dr. Simon Flexner, New York, just issued by the Cincinnati Sanitary Bulletin. Fever is an irregular manifestation. It may be present at the outset or may appear later. The outstanding feature of the disease is the lethargy, which is progressive in character and present in a great majority of cases. It may appear suddenly, but usually is gradual in onset. Facial paralysis often develops, but paralysis of the extremities is rare. The usual state is one suggesting profound sleep, from which the patient can be aroused by loud speaking prodding, etc., to partake of food or answer questions. The duration of the stupor is variable; it may last a few days, for weeks or even for months and recovery still take place. The return to clear mentality usually is gradual, the paper concludes.

The disease is distinct from the African sleeping sickness. Knowledge of it, Dr. Flexner said, still is imperfect.

Minneapolis records show there were 10 deaths from the disease last year.

Sheridan and Cumberland.

The story is told of Cumberland that he took his children to see "The School for Scandal" and when they laughed rebuked them, saying that he saw nothing to laugh at in this comedy. When this was reported to Sheridan, his comment was, "I think that confoundedly ungrateful, for I went to see Cumberland's last tragedy and laughed heartily at it all the way through."—Henry A. REPORT MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry: Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

LOUIS IMGRUND BUYS FATHER'S BUSINESS

Established by John T. Imgrund 24 Years Ago and Cigar Factory Has Flourished

BUSINESS TO BE EXTENDED

Cigar Sales to be Increased in City, Staples, Little Falls and Cuyuna Iron Range

Louis Imgrund has purchased the cigar business of John T. Imgrund and the long established business began operations under the new management Tuesday morning. It seems fitting that this business which John T. Imgrund established in this city 24 years ago should be taken over by his son who brings to it the enthusiasm of youth.

During the 24 years of its operation a considerable business has been established and there are at this time three men working at the bench making cigars. The new proprietor expects to increase the force considerably after the business gets under way.

Louis Imgrund said this morning that he expects to extend the business and introduce the Brainerd made cigars in the surrounding territory, covering the Cuyuna range and surrounding towns including such towns as Staples and Little Falls.

The cigars made by this shop are the Comodilla which will be produced in two sizes selling at two for a quarter and ten cents straight. The Neus and the Comillo which will retail for ten cents and the Secured Bond which will be sold at eight cents.

The new proprietor has been in the cigar business here but is well acquainted with the cigar business and there is an assurance that the cigars made in the shop will be up to the old standard or of higher quality.

This business seems destined to grow to larger proportions under the management of the young man who brings to it the vision and enthusiasm of youth and whose ability to form contact with the trade will increase the sales of home made cigars which have already won a place for themselves due to their quality.

SHIPPERS INDORSE OPEN MARKET BILL

George E. McCulloch Attended Minnesota Central Cooperative Livestock Shippers Meeting

GATHERING IS HELD IN ST. PAUL

Resolutions Adopted that Congress Restore to States More Power Over Intrastate Freight Rates

George E. McCulloch, agent of the Brainerd Live Stock Shipping Association, has returned from St. Paul where he attended the meeting of the Minnesota Central Cooperative Live Stock Shippers' association. The shippers present endorsed the open market bill.

Speaking of the meeting, Mr. McCulloch said that although indorsing the "open market" bill pending in the legislature, which would permit them to establish their own selling agency at South St. Paul, members of the Minnesota Central Co-operative Live Stock Shippers' association in annual meeting rejected a proposition to start such an agency at this time.

H. L. Halverson, president of the association, explained that the Committee of Fifteen, representing livestock producers of the entire country, now is studying the marketing problem and ways to remedy any present defects and he thought it advisable to await the report of that committee before acting on the selling agency proposal.

State Control Favored

The co-operative shippers adopted resolutions demanding that Congress restore to the respective states greater power over intrastate freight rates and traffic, demanding that the Interstate Commerce Commission reduce interstate freight rates; commending the work of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission in supervising the South St. Paul market, and disapproving the increase in commission rates made by commission men at South St. Paul.

An effort made by representatives of the Equity Co-operative Exchange to get the indorsement of the shippers' association was unsuccessful.

R. J. Wells Gives Talk

The morning session was featured by a talk made by R. J. Wells, state supervisor of stockyards, in which he defended the work of his office and replied to attacks which have been made on his department. Mr. Wells used a chart to show how the costs of marketing live stock is distributed at the yards. This comparison was made in reply to charges that the state supervision has added to the cost of marketing and that the extra cost must be met by the producer. Mr. Wells produced his charts to show that the state supervision is but a small part of the expense assessed against shippers at the market and contended that the benefits derived are well worth the cost.

N. P. Rogers, president of the South St. Paul Live Stock Exchange spoke for that organization.

L. E. Potter, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, said that the constant fluctuations in the live stock market should be avoided and predicted that the American Federation of Farm Bureaus which is working on the problem will find a way to at least minimize such variations in prices as now prevail from day to day.

tion in prices as now prevail from day to day.

V. A. McKerrow, a member of the Committee of Fifteen which now is studying live stock marketing, said he believed the committee would eventually work out a system that would revolutionize live stock marketing.

The following officers were elected by the co-operative shippers: President, H. L. Halverson, Litchfield; vice president, C. B. Crandall, Randolph; treasurer, Selby Peterson, Waconia; secretary, W. A. McKerrow, St. Paul; directors, A. P. Bartsch, Owatonna, and James Cook, Clearwater.

The All Stars Get Even

The largest crowd of spectators that has ever gathered at the Cooks alleys was on hand to see the big game Saturday afternoon. The contest was even keener than the first game, and the All Stars were successful in evening the last week's defeat by winning two out of three from the Travelingmen.

Neither team is discouraged but are anxious to get together again for the third time next Saturday. A great deal of credit for the victory to the All Stars is due to the unusual big scores of Oelwein and Sasser. Oelwein averaging 206 for the three games and Sasser nearly 198. Oelwein had the further distinction of playing all three games without an error. The star player for the Travelingmen was Zieke who piled up an average of 194 and only had one error in the three games. The scores were as follows:

Chiropractic For Sciatica

The nerve fibre, like any other tissue or organ is supplied by many other nerve fibres. These carry impulses of heat, of nutrition, of expansion and transmit from it certain sensations. Let us assume that there is excessive expression of heat in the Sciatic Nerve. The result will be inflammation there, and we call the condition SCIATICA. Pressure on these nerves cause this. The only place this pressure can happen is at the spinal column. Your Chiropractor can adjust this to normal position with his bare hands, he uses no mechanical instruments.

Finger Prints in Banks.

The system adopted by some banks of taking "signatures" by means of finger prints is not a new idea, but only a survival of a very old custom. In the days when only a few people could write it was quite a usual thing for a person to signify approval of a document by making a thumb print on a dab of sealing wax.

WIRES OLD SCHOOL FOR BANK STENO

One of the first things F. S. Dundas did when elected cashier of the Security State Bank, Fairview, Mont., was to wire Dakota Business College, Fargo, N. D., for a capable stenographer-bookkeeper. Big firms in all lines prefer Dakota-trained employees.

What Do We Mean--Thrift

Most of us have a hazy, indefinite idea as to the meaning of thrift. Thrift, is nothing more nor less than the use of good judgment in the spending and saving of money.

Waste and extravagance are enemies of thrift. Sensible spending and a savings account at The Brainerd State Bank are enemies of waste and extravagance.

MONT BLANC: APEX OF EUROPE

Mont Blanc undoubtedly remains "the apex of Europe" in spite of the loss of a part of its top in a gigantic snow and landslide as reported in press dispatches early last winter. This great mountain led its nearest European competitor for altitude—Monte Rosa—by 564 feet. Though actual measurements of the loss in height by Mont Blanc have not been reported, estimates are that it has lost only "some scores of feet," a loss which will not be noticed by the its head far above all other phenomena of the earth's crust west of the Caucasus.

Mont Blanc, the "White Mountain," is the westernmost of the great peaks that form the Pennine Alps, which include in their length of about 50 miles such well-known features as Monte Rosa, the Matterhorn, the Great St. Bernard Pass, and Mont Blanc itself. Mont Blanc lies on the border between Italy and France. About ten miles to the northeast, also on the crest of the Pennines, is the common corner of France, Italy and Switzerland. The towering White Mountain is easily visible in fair weather from Geneva, seat of the League of Nations, 60 miles to the west.

Mont Blanc has been accepted as extending 15,782 feet above sea level—just 58 feet short of three miles. As a matter of fact its height has varied from time to time. The highest visible stone in the mountain was 171 feet below the top, the crest itself being made up of an unknown thickness of ice and consolidated snow. This cap becomes slightly lower in summer, due to melting, but is renewed in winter.

Partly hidden among lesser peaks and foothills, Mont Blanc was practically unknown to western Europe until 1744. At first local mountain climbers and tourists visited only the lower ends of the glaciers—among them the famous Mer de Glace—near the French village of Chamonix. For more than a quarter of a century a standing reward for anyone who would discover a route to the top, was uncollected. Finally on August 9, 1786, the crest was reached by a peasant guide, Jacques Balmat. He became more than locally famous and received the quixotic gift of a patent of nobility from the king of Sardinia.

HUNGER SUPPLANTS FETES WHERE WOMEN WORE TWENTY PETTICOATS

Budapest now is capital of a shrunken Hungary, a nation reduced to a fourth its former size, both in

The famous city which first experienced anarchy and carnage during the era of Bela Kun and his communistic government, now feels the pangs of hunger, and can scarcely hope to regain its former importance, prosperity and gaiety during the lifetime of its present inhabitants, if ever.

The Budapest of today offers a pathetic contrast to the care-free days of such fetes as that of St. Stephen's before the war.

That historic celebration, when men wore slit skirts and the women donned 20 petticoats, is described in the following bulletin from the National Geographic society, based on a communication from DeWitt Clinton Falls:

"For who Saint Stephen was, and why he was thus honored, we must go back some nine hundred and odd years in Hungarian history, from which we gather the following information: Vaik came to the throne of the Magyar Duchy in the year 997. He applied for and received the title of Apostolic king from Pope Sylvester II, and was crowned in Budapest in the year 1000, under the Christian name of Stephen. He did much for his countrymen to bring them into the established church, and founded throughout his kingdom churches, schools and convents. His administration was a wise one, and so firmly did he deal with the attempted uprising of the 'Old Magyar Religion' party that when his death occurred, in 1036, he left his country entirely converted to Christianity. So much had he done for the advancement of the Christian faith among the wild hordes of eastern Europe, and added to the civilization of his subjects, that he was canonized and gladly proclaimed by the Hungarians as their patron saint.

"When the Saint passed away, in 1036, one of his hands was amputated and embalmed, and this sacred relic reposes in the court chapel of the Royal Palace in old Buda. Adorned with many handsome rings, it is kept in a crystal casket, set in a beautiful golden reliquary ornamented with many precious stones. In a special shrine behind the high altar, it remained for 364 days in every year, when it could be seen only by the royal household, and those having special permission. On the three hundred and sixty-fifth day, the one set apart to do honor to Saint Stephen, it was taken from its resting place, and with great pomp and a most brilliant escort, carried in a procession to the old Matthias church for a special memorial service.

"The first thing that attracted our attention, as we drove by the walking crowds, was the change of costume of the peasants from the day before. Then all were in their working clothes, but today they were arrayed in all their glory. The men had retained their flat hats, but had generally adorned them with flying ribbons of the national colors—red, white and green. The white divided-skirt-like trousers were now ornamented on the bottoms of the legs with fringe, or coarse lace, and the dark working coats had been laid aside. In their place were gala ones, always colored—soft browns, reds and greens—and elaborately braided with different colored cords.

"The women retained the colored head handkerchiefs, but they were newer and brighter than those worn on Saturday. Their waists were generally of white or light cotton material, sometimes gaily ornamented with coarse-colored embroidery. It was the skirts that were the unique things about the costumes. Of the brightest colors, they were accordion-plaited, and stood out in the most remarkable manner. How they accomplished this was a mystery to the ladies of our party, until our trusty guide and interpreter had been interviewed. From him it was learned that no Hungarian peasant woman considers herself properly dressed for a gala occasion unless she has on at least twenty petticoats."

Chinese Like New American Devil Wagons
Electric Truck Revolutionizes Far East Unloading

THE PRIMITIVE CHINESE UNLOADING METHOD

EAST is East, and West is West, but even the Far East is learning the economic superiority of the Yankee "modern improvement" in freight-moving as a substitute for the straining and sweating of its coolie labor.

The familiar electric truck, driven by a man standing at a controller bar in front, and its long train of trailers "snaking" behind, which we nowadays see in nearly every big railroad or steamship freight houses in the United States, is revolutionizing unloading operations in every port in the world, almost.

Probably nowhere have the trucks worked a greater revolution than along the docks of the Chinese ports where for years past the Chinese coolie with his home-made wheelbarrow has been the one dependable freight handler. These devil wagons, as the Chinese have dubbed them, do the work of a score of coolies with a tremendous saving of time, which even in slow-going China is a growing consideration.

This is the only one Yankee foreign trade victory of recent years that will be related to the 3500 American business men expected to attend the eighth annual convention of the National Foreign Trade Council in Cleveland May 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Advertisers in the Daily Dispatch

Now get the same cut service as the big city dailies.

We have made arrangements with the Murray Illustrated Advertising Company of New York, for the furnishing of cuts for advertising purposes absolutely free to our patrons. This service is the best in America and has as clients some of the largest newspapers published.

Never before has it been possible for a paper to furnish this service without a considerable added outlay on the part of the advertiser, and even now it is only offered to the paper recognized by advertisers and readers as the leader in its section.

The Dispatch buys the cuts; the advertiser pays for the space in the paper at the same rate as for other advertising. Many of our patrons have already taken advantage of this offer and others are invited to do so.

We will be glad to explain the matter more fully
